

Bringing Biblical Principles of Governance

The man who warned us about 9/11 has another warning for America.

Greetings My Friends,

Avi Lipkin, an Orthodox Jew living in Israel, warned us an attack was imminent. He told us they would fly planes into tall buildings. Then, 9/11 happened. People said, “You must be a prophet.” He said, “No, I am not. I told you how I knew. My wife works in intel. She speaks fluent Arabic, and was hired to monitor the chatter going on between potential bad actors. They said there were going to do it. I told you what they said. You would not believe me. But they did it.”

Avi Lipkin

Avi is a trained Sovietologist (an expert on the former Soviet Union, as well as Russia today). He is also rather astute on international relations involving most of the countries of the world. We have known Avi and his family for some time. His adult son, wife and children are friends of ours.

When I interviewed him recently, some people said it was one of the greatest, most all-encompassing presentations they had ever heard. You might feel the same way when you hear him.

And remember: the man who warned us about 9/11 (and people did not listen) is warning us again.
